Work Your Light
The Great Gathering

Hello Darling,

The message for September 2020 was absolutely beautiful and fascinating. It took me a bit to connect in with it, but once I connected in, it was loving, yet very clear. We are being called to individualize from our ancestors and the patterns of the past.

Last month was all about being connected as One. Now, we must honor the gifts our ancestors (both living and nonphysical) have handed us, but also step into our own authenticity and leave behind the story that our gifts “came from them.” We must do this to break the patterns that were created. We must see our ancestors as who they ARE, not who they were. You’ve heard the expression “You take the good with the bad.” Well, it works in reverse. YOU are your own unique Lightworker and we are entering into an entirely new way of Being where the patterns of the past will no longer serve. We must make amends for our part in the hurt our collective has suffered and step forward to share the Light we intended to share.

Our physic abilities will be heightened in the coming weeks and months. We are being encourage, now more than ever, to find our soul groups as the Great Gathering of Lightworkers continues and the consciousness of the collective rises. This is not to exclude anyone it is merely to ensure that we are supported by those who love us most for the courageous work ahead.

You are loved Here. I want you to truly KNOW and understand that. You have a home here. You are loved... you are precious... you are magnificent. May you find resonance in the pages ahead and may you feel joy on your journey into a new way of Being.

Angie

Sacred Rebel – Legacy of Light (Part I)

You are being asked to honor the legacy of light that is your sacred birthright. Take nourishment and support from those that have come before you – your ancestral lines not only in blood but also in spirit. Perhaps these are the beings that have inspired and motivated you to live as a sacred rebel, from your heart and with belief in yourself. The more you are nourished by this legacy of light from your past, the more you become a bearer of the legacy for those that will be supported by your light in the future. This is a sacred endowment from the great universal source of light to humanity. It is the light of wisdom, creativity, radical courage, love and respect that is passed down from the heart of each generation to the next. The legacy of light is your spiritual birthright to refine and shine your essence in to the world...to be like a sun, radiant and unapologetic of your nature.

The oracle of Legacy of Light comes to you when you need confirmation that a creative choice you are making, or have made, or will soon make, is one that is in alignment with your sacred purpose and spiritual path of healing and growth. The legacy of light cannot be ignored without some detriment to your sense of wellbeing. If you were asking about a particular question and drew this card, then part of the answer to your question is that the issue at hand is one of utmost importance to your spiritual growth – even if it seemed like a relatively insignificant question. The energy around this matter is relevant to your sacred birthright to shine. Perhaps you need to trust more, to know that all is well, no matter what appears to be, and to ask for help, and believe that you deserve to receive it.

The legacy of light also asks you to call on the unconditionally loving support that exists for you, every day. This light will offer you all manner of assistance. To not call upon it is like starving because you believe you have no means to acquire food, whilst a feast lays before your eyes – if only you would partake of it! Perhaps you worry that you are asking too much of those who wish to assist you. However, this is a mistaken belief. Those beings of unconditional love who assist us spiritually each day need to shine just as we do. When they are embraced for their purpose – to assist with the spiritual growth of humanity through unconditional love – they too become a part of the legacy of light, shining bright with love and helping to illuminate the world.

Sacred Rebel – Legacy of Light (Part II)

Although you may doubt your goodness at times – and being human does mean there will be some very dark moments on your path – this oracle affirms that you are coming from love, with the pure intention to simply live your life and do your best in the circumstances in which you find yourself. You are being asked to avail yourself of the help that is awaiting your request so that your own light can become a part of the greater shining legacy of divine brilliance made manifest upon the earth.

This oracle is also guiding you to something in your family history or spiritual ancestry that is relevant to you now. Your spiritual ancestry can be recognized through the traditions and cultures you are intrigued by and interested in. They do not have to be the same as the spiritual traditions that you were raised with in this lifetime, although they may be. The influence of your family history and/or spiritual tradition may be encouraging and constructive but it may also be holding you back. Sometimes we unintentionally absorb the hidden fears of our parents or our religious upbringing, such as the belief that dreams cannot manifest or that we have to compromise to the point of losing what makes us feel truly alive. If you can relate to this or want healing just in case it is happening beyond the level of your conscious awareness, simply complete the healing process below.

Finally, if you need a jolt to recognize that you are a creative being, entitled to explore your ingenuity – perhaps through taking a class or pursuing your own artistic interests at home – then this oracle brings the particular guidance that, “Yes, this is a part of your life path,” and you are encouraged to take it further.

You are also acknowledged through this oracle as having some special creative and healing offering to make to the world in this lifetime. You will leave a legacy of light for the greater good upon this planet and you will be lovingly supported in many ways by the great creative universal intelligence when you ask for help. If you don't know how to do that, just complete the healing process below.

Angels & Ancestors – White Witch - Be the Light

Take the higher road and choose the light. Remove yourself from lower-energy experiences.

The White Witch card represents the Maiden aspect of the Triple Goddess of paganism and modern Wicca. The Maiden is a gentle, innocent and pure aspect of the Goddess, a loving soul who wants nothing but the best for the whole Earth. Here she is joined by a horned owl, showing that she is willing to respect those with more wisdom and experience than she has, but SHE is also willing to trust what she feels to be RIGHT WITHIN HER HEART.

This is a message to you that no matter what is happening and what your ancestors brought to this Earth before you, YOU are the lightworker who is here now, taking a new way of Being forward.

You are being encouraged to shine the light YOU were born to share. You may honor your ancestors and those who lead with grace and wisdom, but you must individualize now, lest you take the old patterns forward into a new world.

The Starseed Oracle – I’m Sorry

Defenselessness. Righting past Wrongs. Uprooting.

We’re living in divisive times. They will not get any less divisive in the month of September. When we’re hurt and triggered, we tend to see things as a personal attack rather than an opportunity for healing. If we’re to find trust, peace, and unity, we need to drop our defenses and see things outside of right and wrong.

As souls we intrinsically remember unity and yearn for it here on Earth. Perhaps this is why it feels so painful when we experience the opposite. But it’s crucial to remember that we can’t simply bypass reality and pretend that unity, love, and forgiveness are here. This is one of the greatest challenges for Lightworkers.

To bring about unity we must first acknowledge the ways in which both we and the world have been divisive (personally, ancestrally, and collectively) the shadows, hate, wounds, separation, severing, wrongs, and sadness.

You may be called to explore how you, your ancestors, or your society have, consciously or unconsciously, inflicted pain on one another. To find a way to drop the armor around your heart and see things as they are for all people. To say I’m sorry with an open heart.

Try Ho’oponopono several times a day, any time you feel the patterns begin to repeat.

I’m sorry. Please forgive me.

Thank you. I love you.

Ho’oponopono

Refine your psychic senses

You are, or are about to see further, higher, and deeper through time and space. As a Lightworker, your psychic skills are expanding and seeing through the lens of your soul, as the collective continues to bring in a higher level of consciousness (5D) to Earth. Hone your abilities this month by reading about or doing a workshop on intuitive development. We are all psychic, it is a part of who we are, but we have thrust this ability into the background in favor of other senses. Problems occur when we keep looking at the manifested world for proof of our worth. You are worth because you are here, there is nothing to prove. You could become an intuitive reader if this is something you desire. It could also mean you are learning to trust what you feel and the next steps to take will drop into your mind soon.

You may notice more headaches, fogginess, fatigue, jaw pain, pressure in the neck and shoulders, tingling in the hands and feet, restlessness, or clumsiness. If so, you may be experiencing heightened levels of ascension symptoms. Please consult a physician if these issues are bothersome beyond a simple annoyance, otherwise, consider (if you haven't already done so) joining a community of other women who are embracing their intuitive/psychic gifts and lean into one another as we move into a new way of Being.

White Light Oracle – Shaktipat of Seahorse

As you embrace your inner essence, you will be at peace with who you are, including your vulnerability, and no longer see the need to conform to social ideals which have no true resonance for your heart. You are encouraged to trust your intuitive recognition of which environments and relationships harmonize well with you, supporting your spiritual growth and wellbeing on all levels. You have the innate capacity to manifest. Relax and you shall attract all that you need as you shine your light courageously into the new world.

Healing Process:

I trust in the uniqueness, sacred beauty, higher purpose and perfect inner potential that I AM. I surrender into the unconditionally loving acceptance that Spirit has for me and heed the encouragement to be my true self. I do not need to adapt, compromise or alter myself to be like anyone else. My true nature is divinely designed, and I seek to cast off ego concepts like tattered old clothes, standing peaceful luminous and unshackled in my own true nature. From that place of truth, I feel connected to my heart. I can easily attract all I desire from this place of authenticity and integrity. May all being know such peace, comfort and love.

Remember, as a child, you were the Seeker. The one who KNEW, at the core, this world was a beautiful place, and you were special because you were in it. Remember this now, Darling. YOU are LUMINOUS... Love, Light, and Leading the Way.

Work Your Light – The Great Gathering (continues)

It's all coming together. Intuitive hits. Soul Tribes

You are being called to let your intuition move you psychically. You are connected to a group of souls who are weaving a web around the planet, and as you travel and share your LIGHT, your creations, something is rethreaded. This is an acknowledgement that you are either being called to connect with others who are like you at a soul level or that you are already there. You are being called to continue gathering in groups, either by leading them or becoming a part of a group that can support you and your soul's personal mission.

You are part of a group of souls who agreed to be here at this time in history to heal yourself, you ancestral line, and the planet. To raise consciousness so that we can continue to call this magnificent place home for eras to come. One of many consciously choosing to devote your life to something greater than yourself.

It's TIME to call in your tribe by sharing (broadcasting) your soul's voice and letting yourself be seen! When you share what is real and true to you, and you share the medicine that you most need those who are like you will gather with you. You are your tribe... they are just like you. And just as you are longing and searching for them, they are longing and searching for you too.

“I choose now to let myself be seen. I am ready to call in my soul tribe and create a web of light all over the planet.”

APPENDIX

SACRED REBEL - HEALING PROCESS

Say aloud, “Through unconditional love, I am open to receiving the support, guidance, protection and assistance that I need to manifest the legacy of light that shines through me now. I release any conscious or unconscious attachment to beliefs or relationship patterns that hold me back from fully shining my light in the world. I ask that my creative journey be aligned with my spiritual path and blessed for the greatest good. So be it.”

Place your hands in prayer at your heart and close your eyes. Bow your head to your hands and imagine, sense or perceive that a beautiful golden light pours down from the center of the universe into the top of your head. It then flows slowly down through your head and into your heart, all the way down through your body and out through the souls of your feet.

When you are ready, simply open your eyes and you have completed your healing process.
